Dear ACSA Region 10 Members,

It gives me the greatest privilege and pleasure to welcome you to the 2022-2023 school year! My name is Limary Trujillo Gutiérrez, our Region's president! This year, we hope to reach out to you more than ever before. We recognize that the COVID-19 pandemic has brought forth new challenges to education, and as we transition to a "normalized" school year, we have the wonderful opportunity to leverage this school year's start to one that is filled with support, networking, and mentorship for you. As a regional executive cabinet, we met this past weekend

(picture on the left) to discuss our vision and how to continue to meet your needs. Please see our Region's vision below:

To equitably meet the needs of all students, ACSA Region 10 will support the development of equity-minded administrators in professional development, frequent networking, and mentoring opportunities.

We were able to uphold our mission in the following ways this past school year: Three of our four charters were able to provide professional development that had equity at the forefront. We also reignited our "Principal Recognition Program" and were able to celebrate seven of our site principals for their incredible work! Though our intentions are to continue supporting and celebrating these areas, we hope to dive deeper into our equity focus this year by:

1. Ensuring we provide you with appropriate communicate so that you know where to find information that will support you every day.
2. Know who to contact when needing to speak with someone in your same job category.
3. Know with whom to communicate when you aspire to have a different job in education.
4. Continue to keep equity at the forefront of what you do.

To better understand your needs and support you, please complete the following survey. This will allow us to streamline the process and lines of communication that will ensure we meet the actions above. Lastly, I wanted to inform you that you may
