Message from Region 6 President

Empowered to Lead, Inspired by Heart, United for Impact

As we move through the fall season, Region 6 proudly celebrates the Week of the School Administrator, observed this year from October 12th through 18th.

The Week of the School Administrator is the perfect opportunity for us to recognize the important work school leaders do every day in order to create supportive, equitable, and engaging learning environments for all students. Administrators, whether at the site, district or county level, serve students, staff and communities by guiding with both courage and care.

Region 6 Charter Presidents frequently share stories about outstanding work of administrators throughout our Region. Noting that together we create conditions to help students and staff succeed, whether by building meaningful connections, collaboration with each other, or showing unwavering commitment to our schools and communities.

This year's Region 6 theme, Empowered to Lead, Inspired by Heart, United for Impact, reminds us of the strength we have when we lead together. Each decision, conversation, and action shapes our schools, and supports the achievement and well-being of our students. Leadership is not only about guiding others, it is about listening, connecting, and fostering trust within our districts, schools and communities.

At last week's Leadership Assembly, ACSA President, Dr. Daryl Camp encouraged us to lean into dialogue and reflection as a path toward meaningful progress. He reminds us to put ourselves in spaces that are uncomfortable or that we may not be familiar with, and to create environments and spaces where rich conversations can flourish. In the spirit of this message, we are invited to embrace understanding before judgment, a concept echoed in Stephen Covey's timeless advice: Seek first to understand, then to be understood.

While we celebrate the Week of the School Administrator, let us take a moment to honor the remarkable leaders across our region who create spaces for growth, belonging, and possibility. Let us also remember leadership is both a privilege and a promise to listen, to learn, and to lift others.

May we continue to be empowered in our leadership, inspired by heart, and united in the impact we create together.

In partnership and gratitude,
Lorianne R. Ventura, Ed.D.
