ACSA is YOUR Professional Organization

ACSA's Mission Statement

The Association of California School Administrators is the driving force for an equitable, world-class education system, and the development and support of inspired educational leaders who meet the diverse needs of all California students.

Now more than ever, we depend on our organization to provide us with the most timely and accurate information and resources. We count on ACSA to be at the table to represent the interests of our over 6 million public school students.

Our ACSA leadership does not disappoint us during this time of unimaginable chaos and challenges. Executive Director Wes Smith and his amazing staff are there to represent our voice with state leaders and policy makers. They have been relentless in their advocacy for needs of our schools and their hard work is reflected most recently in the just released May Revise of the state budget.

Many of our district superintendents and leaders have taken on this call to action with great passion by engaging in conversations of various task forces and committees. They are speaking out and leading the conversation as the state calls to reopen schools in the fall. ACSA has never been a reactive organization, we continue to be leaders and influencers driven by our mission and passion.

ACSA launching reopening schools Call to Action

(Reprinted from May 15, 2020 Message from Executive Director Wes Smith)

As California public school discussions have moved from school closures to reopening schools next year, ACSA has been working diligently to ensure the decisions of policymakers are influenced by our members.

Today, ACSA is launching its reopening schools Call to Action. We believe schools should not open to students, teachers and staff until they are safe. Thus, we are advocating for the supports, protections and resources you will need to safely reopen schools, including but not limited to statewide public health and safety standards, a clear set of learning expectations, the flexibility to drive innovation and necessary funding.

Our Call to Action will be followed by our Essential Commitments and Scenario Planning. They will articulate commitments all stakeholders will need to make to ensure high-quality learning for all students and scenarios for reopening schools safely, as well as the necessary considerations and resources for each scenario respectively.

California May Budget Revision Education Analysis

ACSA Senior Communications Director Naj Alikhan and Senior Governmental Relations Director Edgar Zazueta have a complete analysis of the budget and what it means for educators around the state. Watch their analysis on Youtube within hours of the release of the May Budget by Governor Newsom. Click here to watch this episode.

These communications go out to members regularly from ACSA. Check your spam folder if you have not seen them or contact ACSA if you are not receiving them.

Weekly Live on Facebook

ACSA Executive Director Wes Smith hosts Common Purpose, Uncommon Times on Facebook Live on Mondays at 5:30 p.m., providing viewers with information from the state Capitol and how it impacts you, answering your questions and helping you focus on being the student advocate that your community needs right now.

This past Monday, ACSA Superintendency Council President Katie McNamara talked about the school reopening Call to Action and ACSA Senior Director of Policy and Governmental Relations Edgar Zazueta provided an in-depth May Revise analysis.

Send in your questions to Naj Alikhan, and watch for the next broadcast at www.facebook.com/acsafans.

Thanks to our generous sponsors, there is no cost for this workshop

Jamie Nunez is the Bay Area Regional Manager at Common Sense and supports school districts in their efforts to implement digital wellness initiatives. For over 15 years, Jamie has redefined education practices by designing creative learning networks for educators. As a former high school teacher, school administrator, and after school director, Jamie has facilitated hundreds of professional development workshops on student engagement in digital spaces. When not working, Jamie can be found in public places teaching his 5-year-old daughter how to give compliments to strangers.

Incorporating Digital Wellness Strategies for the Changing Education Landscape

In the last issue, we announced that our annual Leadership Summit and Awards Dinner scheduled for June 11 had to be cancelled. The professional learning portion has been restructured to virtual learning. The Awards Dinner to honor our Region 6 Administrators of the Year has been rescheduled to October 22.

The Leadership Summit Conference has pivoted to a virtual learning format with Thriving off the Vine online workshops set up for the next few months. The first one is a most relevant one scheduled for June 23, 2020 with Jamie Nunez on Incorporating Digital Wellness Strategies for the Changing Education Landscape.

This is a FREE event. Register now below. Click here for flyer which includes a list of our Region 6 partners.
